Clean Carmel Pleases Visitor, Now To Keep It That Way

The Carmel Business Association recently received a letter from Mary Lee Harington of Portland, Ore., and passed on to the Pine Cone.

Mary Lee is an 8th grade student in Portland, and she's doing a term paper on the littering problem throughout America.

She visited Carmel in March, and loved the city ". . . not only because it was so picturesque but also because it was so clean and free from the litter present in most cities and beaches, especially those with so many tourists. . . ."

She wants to know how the city kept so clean.

Of course there are the Kiwanis trash containers throughout the city, and it is a psychologically sound fact that cleanliness tends to breed cleanliness, and so, Mary Lee, those are a couple of the reasons Carmel is cleaner than the usual city.

And to insure the cleanliness of Carmel during the height of the tourist season this summer, Carmel's Mayor Barney Laiolo has now come up with a great idea.

He's going to hire maybe three or four Carmel High School or MPC students on a part-time basis, and their sole job will be to literally sweep the city and beach clear of litter.

At any rate, if not with a broom, they will be employed to pick up, haul off and otherwise dispose of any unsightly litter they may encounter.

However, there is one major problem.

It's obvious that you just can't turn a flock of students loose on the streets and say "Pick up anything you can lift, and if you can't lift it, paint it white."

That's for the Army.

You need a plan.

And you need someone to see that the plan is carried out.

Supervision, it's called.

So Barney Laiolo is looking for someone a little older — someone retired, maybe? Someone who would like to take on this small chore as a project. On a volunteer basis.

The mayor figures he's going to have to pay the young lads who are going to do the muscle work on street and beach, but maybe someone would like to step forward to take on the job of making certain Carmel presents its usual immaculate appearance.

Anyone who wants to undertake this project for the summer vacation period can get in touch with His Honor at 624-1811 weekdays.

So you see, Mary Lee, what's needed to keep a city clean is people who care that it is clean, from the Mayor on down.

People in Carmel care.

First Annual Weed...What?

Weed — any undesired, uncultivated plant that grows in profusion so as to crowd out a desired crop, disfigure a lawn, etc. . . . (Webster's New World Dictionary)

So who wants 'em?

A bunch of people in Carmel Valley, that's who.

In fact, this bunch of people have such a thing going for weeds that they're holding a "First Annual Weed Show."

No kidding, a "First Annual Weed Show."

But artistically.

This bunch of weed-lovers have renamed Pilot Road in the Village "Plaza de Flores," which translates "Village Square of the Flowers" and how they hope to reconcile a flock of flowers with bevy of burr clover certainly gives one pause.

Anyway, one of the guiding lights behind this dubious endeavor is weed-lover Edith Brattin of the Brattin Nursery in the Village, who not only knows weeds by their euphemism of "native plants," but feels such an affinity for weeds that she paints, draws and other wise promulgates the canard "weeds are beautiful."

She has gathered a representative sampling of weeds, and together with a couple of cohorts — Beatrice Howitt and Richard Robinson — will have a garden fence gallery display of her drawings and watercolors of weeds.

Blaah.

Miss Howitt should know better. She's president of the Native Plants Society and the author of a book on the wild flowers of Monterey County.

Richard Robinson should know better too. He's a professor of botany and an authority on weeds and grasses.

Dru Dunn of the Village's Keeping Room will show Marian Weyger's collection of hand prints done by coating the actual weeds, leaves, grasses, moths and insects (how these people go on!) with special ink, then printing them on hand made paper.

She also, in a breath of weed-free air, managed to get Japanese artist Jiro Oishi to have some of his wire etchings on display.

And it's not enough that the adults have formed a dandelion cult, they are going to get the kids in on the alleged beauties of chickweed and crabgrass.

There's a contest for children to make drawings or paintings in the kindergarten level to adults beginning at and submit them for fantastic prizes.

They've broken everybody down into three groups — up to 6th grade; 7th grade through high school, and adults — and there are three sets of prizes, a $10 gift cer-

Hill To Judge Gwenn Graham Concours

Phil Hill, internationally known race driver, will be a member of the panel that will judge the entries in the Gwenn Graham Concours to be held at Pebble Beach's Del Monte Lodge on Saturday, May 31.

Hill has won the LeMans Grand Prix three times and Sebring three times. He was also the winner of the first Pebble Beach Sports Car Road Races when they were run in the Del Monte Forest 19 years ago.

In addition to judging, Hill will enter his 1931 supercharged 4.5 litre Bentley which he purchased from Amherst Villiers two years ago. Mr. Villiers was responsible for all engineering of the supercharger in the Bentley cars.

This year a 1957 Mercedes 300 deluxe model sedan, original cost $13,900, will be given to the lucky ticket holder the day of the Concours between the hours of 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.

The drawing for this luxury car, which is silver blue with a black leather interior, an all band radio and other luxuries, will be under the direction of the Community Hospital Auxiliary of the Monterey Peninsula.

All proceeds from the sale of tickets and posters go to the auxiliary. Tickets can be purchased at the event or by writing Gwenn Graham Concours, Pebble Beach.

Planning Commission Hears Proposal For Carmel Rancho Subdivision

by Gunnar Norberg

Perhaps the most important matter to come before the Carmel Planning Commission at yesterday afternoon's long meeting was one on which that Commission can only express an advisory opinion instead of making a binding decision.

That matter was a proposal presented by Harry Bell on behalf of the Carmel Rancho development organization which he serves as manager.

The proposal involves establishment of some 150 dwelling units on something like half of the 15-acre parcel he described as "Riverwood," located generally east and south of a previously established development — Carmel Lago.

Questioning by Commissioners Fred Keeble and Olof Dahlstrand led to an acknowledgment by Bell that nearly half the 15-acre parcel of the proposed Riverwood development would be a long, narrow strip of river bank, extending along the north shore of the Carmel River from State Highway 1 and winding for nearly a mile inland.

The implication at first seemed to be that the riverbank strip was to be deeded to the County for park purposes, but eventually it appeared that the Carmel Rancho organization was simply going to give the County a scenic easement and that the acreage involved was to be included in a 10-units-per-acre formula.

Actually if only about half the 15 acres were to be used to accommodate the planned 150-unit development, the per-acre-density of dwelling units would not become the 10-per-acre at first mentioned, but instead something like 20-per-acre. Such a density of dwelling units would roughly double the number allowed on the basis established in the City of Carmel long ago—at the turn of the century, in fact.

Members of the Carmel Planning Commission yesterday accepted the invitation to join members of the Monterey County Planning Commission in an on-the-spot inspection of the proposed Riverwood development area, at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon.

The County Commission has the right to accept, reject, or modify the terms and conidtions of the proposed Riverwood development, since the property is located outside Carmel's city limits, even though it is within Carmel's state-authorized city-planning area.

How can the various existing Carmel Rancho developments have exceeded the terms included in the Carmel city master plan can be readily seen when it is recalled that that master plan made provision only for a "neighborhood shopping center" of no more than seven acres, and for retention of the surrounding areas at the Carmel Valley entrance in either agricultural or single-family dwellings on one-acre minimum building sites.

In giving its advice to the County on another matter on which its advice was sought, the Carmel Planning Commission approved the proposal by Holiday Inn to extend its coffee-shop area and to include art-gallery use on its premises.

Signs were approved for Cypress West Inn, the Dale Logan Hill Gallery, Konigsberg's Artist Workshop, and the Yuan San Lim Art Gallery. Final consideration of various technical matters relating to driveways, signs, and awnings was postponed until next week's meeting or later. A proposal by Commissioner Dorothy von Meier to arrange for the planting of a tree on the Sunset Center site as a memorial to the late Floyd Adams, who had served the city for many years as building inspector and planning director, was unanimously approved.

Chameleon Dedicated To Donald Craig

The recent creative arts festival at Carmel High School opened many eyes to the interesting things going on at the high school.

It coincided with the first public showing of The Chameleon, a literary art portfolio of work composed by the Creative Writing Club, dedicated this year to the late Donald Craig, beloved teacher.

On display was pottery, sculpture in wood, metal and clay, painting and drawing, draftsmanship, woodworking and jewelry.

Very unusual features were the chess sets by Ralph Forbes with sculptured medieval figures and animals for chessmen. His tiny sculptured head of Einstein, copied from a photograph, and used as the bowl of a pipe, was an amazingly life-like likeness.

Art director at the high school is Bill Stone, well known artist himself; Lloyd Baskerville pottery instructor. They served as advisors for The Chameleon for which Tatiana Granoff was editor.

Robert Brooks is drafting instructor and Howard Byrne woodworking instructor. James Agan is the instructor in metal work and jewelry.

CHS To Show Films By Students Tuesday

The new film production class of 60 students at Carmel High School entered four films in the recent Northern California High School Student Film Festival in Millbrae, and three of them placed.

The films were in competition with the work of 30 other young filmmakers.

They were entitled "Hands," an impressionistic love story done by Christine Dawson, Bob Faul and Rusty Koontz; "Scratch," a technical class project; "I Left My Heart," another class project, a film about San Francisco, an unfortunate clash between romance and reality; and "Expired" by Richard Olson and Mark Thompson, dealing with the alienation of man with society.

These and other films by students from CHS and other schools will be shown to the community at Brey Hall, Tuesday, May 27 at 8 p.m.

In order to finance equipment and film a donation of 50c will be charged adults, 25c for students.

"Considering the enthusiasm generated inside and outside the class, the program should be offered next year," said Dick Hilton, English and Film Production teacher.

Dance Band for Adults At CHS Gym

Carmel High School music department is putting on a second adult dance on Saturday of the Memorial day weekend. A 15 piece stage band playing Tommy Dorsey type music, led by Henry Avila will play for ballroom type dancing for the benefit of music awards and the band uniform fund.

The dance will last from 9 until 12 and there will be door prizes. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Math Contest

Anthony J. Tersol, Carmel High School senior, ranked 41st among the 21,475 students in 281 high schools who were administered tests in the 1969 Annual Mathematics Contest of the Mathematical Association of America, Northern California, Nevada Section. He was awarded a U. S. Savings Bond.

Carmel High School ranked 38th among the schools.

Middle School Matheletes

Jennifer Bestor and John Toldi, 8th grade; and John Hughes and Valerie Williams, 7th grade, represented Carmel Middle School in the recent Monterey County math contest in which 13 public school districts and 5 private and parochial schools participated.

To a star —

Somewhere in distant galaxies you burn
In silent light; surrounded by the freezing void
Of endless night you fill a little space
Around yourself with heat, and guard the Tiny whirling orbs that cluster 'round your heart.
And all the mixing molecules within your little spheres
Have seen you blaze across their stretch of vaulted sky;
It is no wonder then they ask wherefore
And worship you with beauty they design.
Such frail entities as they could not perceive
The cold and silent space on which your wisdom dwells.
They must build sacredness upon the base of life of which you gave.
A lonely call does not possess their minds, for they
Have made their answer to their question why
And never dream that close beyond their cosmic light
Dear thoughts but echo deeply through
A night lost far from time.

Shinto Wedding Ceremony

A Shinto shrine near Tokyo was the background for the recent marriage of Lisa Van Horne, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Van Horne of Carmel, and Laurence Rubenstein, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Victor Rubenstein of Los Angeles.

The bride and groom have been students at International Christian University.

Lisa wore Japanese bridal kimonas, the top one of red and gold figured silk, and black wig with white bridal ribbon decoration for the ceremony.

She changed to a pale blue kimona and different head decorations for the formal Japanese lunch with a speech by each wedding guest, according to Shinto protocol. The groom wore a short dark brown Japanese kimona throughout.

Then followed a reception at the home on the ICU campus of Dr. and Mrs. Delmer Brown. Dr. Brown is professor of Japanese history at the University of California at Berkeley.

Mrs. Van Horne (Mary Louise), Mrs. Rubenstein and her sister went to Japan for the wedding as members of a Los Angeles County Art Museum tour.

They rejoined the tour to visit Taipei, Bangkok, Singapore, Hongkong and Manila, all these places being of great interest to Mary Louise as a member of the League of Women Voters which has concerned itself with the United Nations and China.

Lisa and Larry are now traveling in Europe which they reached via plane from Moscow and Leningrad following a three day trans-Siberian trip by railroad.

They will return to the U.S. in mid-June to resume study at the summer session at UCLA. They plan to return to their regular college, UC Santa Cruz, in the fall where Larry will be a senior and Lisa sophomore.

'Love the Great Necessity'

Contemporary literature as it reflects our society was considered by Professor Marian Robinson of San Jose State College and members of the American Association of University Women at their luncheon meeting at the Ginza Restaurant last week.

The work of James Joyce initiated the concern with what happens inside the characters of a novel, the elimination of the rational consciousness reflecting the lack of order and chaos in the world today.

The modern novel, she said, is concerned with the anti-hero in his quest for identity, be he psychotic, outsider, or split personality.

Time no longer is chronological, but is rather a continuum or circle frequently broken up into past and future as in Proust.

There is a new view of consciousness in which "loneliness is the great reality and love the great necessity." Mythological themes are frequently used in which private, not public feelings are exposed.

Post-war literature is characterized by violence, on an international, national and private level. The repairing of social wrongs has become a nightmare, she said.

The modern author has been withdrawing from his subject matter as in Mailer, Baldwin and Capote.

Humor and comedy is close to tragedy as in Kafka and Heller's Catch 22 with its savage attack on bureaucratic institutions. It is frequently a put-on or mind blowing experience.

In short, she said, the whole period could be characterized by the phrase "colorful void."

Back from Germany

Very glad to be back home in good old Carmel after a four week trip to Germany are Richard and Doretta Comings.

Their two daughters, Heidi and Cornelia, who went with them, had a wonderful time. Cornelia, meeting her grandparents for the first time, surprised them by understanding German as well as English and speaking both languages quite well, though she arrived only seven months ago from Korea and knew nothing but Korean at that time.

Heidi renewed friendship with German children whom she met two years ago. The highlight was a visit to the world famous zoo "Hagenbeck's Tierpark."

The Comings stayed most of the time in Hamburg. The weather ranged from snow, hail, rain to sunshine, thunderstorms.

Dorette's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mueller, visited Carmel several years ago.

Change Self To Change Others

"If we will, we can control self, we can change self," said Capt. Philip Mothersill, USN ret, marriage and family counsellor, in his address to auxiliary members of the Monterey Institute of Speech and Hearing at La Playa Hotel last week.

"And only by changing ourselves, can we change the behavior of others."

"We must learn how to love, to practice the technique of forgiveness, to become intimately aware of the feelings of others."

"Man was made to be the head of the house, woman its heart," he said, "and yet there are times when he needs to be mothered."

Forest Notes

by Robert L. Tate
City Forester

There are several species of bark beetles which attack the Monterey Pine of Carmel.

Three of the most common are turpentine beetles, pine ingraver beetles, and twig beetles.

Each of these pests attack different parts of the tree. They do not eat the bark, but tunnel through it until the pink-like inner bark is reached. It is there they lay eggs which hatch into maggot-like larvae. These larvae do most of the damage by tunneling in the inner bark and finally cutting off the flow of nutrients.

The affected part ultimately dies of starvation.

The turpentine beetles infest the lower trunk near the ground level. The pine ingraver beetles attack the upper part of the trees, and the twig beetle, as it's name implies, attacks the twigs and smaller limbs.

Control of these pests is very difficult and time consuming because by the time the tree gives a visual indication of an attack it is often too late to save the affected part.

Why then, aren't all of our pines being attacked and killed by the bark beetles?

The answer is a successful attack primarily depends on the vigor of the tree. Vigorous trees repel beetle attacks due to the technical term called "Oleo-resin-exudation-pressure."

In everyday language this is merely pressure, which to the tree is not unlike our blood pressure.

When the beetle bores into a tree which is vigorous and has high sap pressure, the sap engulfs and kills the beetle before it can mate and lay eggs.

With a little experience, an observer can oftentimes pick out a tree which is likely to come under attack.

Old, diseased and damaged pines have poor vigor and should be watched closely for signs of attack.

A large percentage of pines can be saved by rapid and thorough treatment undertaken by a person versed in the use of pesticides and other control measures. This treatment involves the use of sprays, if the tree is still thrifty and valuable enough to warrant it. Such work is costly where a tall pine is involved and the insect damage is in the crown of the tree.

A new and promising method is being investigated. This is a systemic poison injected into the tree which kills attacking insects and is not harmful to the tree.

Raymond E. Wallace

Carmel Artist To Captain Voyage Under Full Sail

Reliving the days of "wooden ships and iron men," Raymond E. Wallace, noted artist and trans-ocean yachtsman will depart for Copenhagen, Denmark on June 20 to prepare the three masted tops'le schooner Prince Louis and her crew of 20 California sailors for the 8,000 mile voyage to Los Angeles.

Wallace, a veteran sailing master and navigator of long-distance ocean racing, will be accompanied by his wife Barbara, his son Rob and his eight-year-old daughter Mari in addition to a ship's compliment of experienced officers and men.

The Wallaces will bring the schooner as far as Panama then return to Carmel by August 30. The vessel will continue to Los Angeles where she will become a marine museum.

Owner of the "Marine Art Gallery" in the Mall, Wallace features a continuous one-man exhibit of authoritative oils and temperas relating to the adventurous world of ships and the sea. During the voyage he will paint and sketch the many fascinating subjects found at sea and at ports along the interesting sailing route.

Finnish Travel Office Offers Bonus

Tourists going to Finland this summer will be treated to a special bonus on their trip. Fifteen complimentary coupons have been bound in a voucher and made available to passengers flying Finnair, the country's national airline, to Helsinki.

The coupons range in value, and include, among other things, a free luncheon at one of the nation's most modern restaurants, a super snack at the country's oldest inn, tickets for a Finnish baseball game and various purchase discounts, applicable even to the purchase of the Nordic nation's fine mink, silver or gold. One coupon provides for a visit with a Finnish family, also.

The city of Helsinki, the Finnish Tourist Board and a number of Finnish enterprises devised the no-cost bonus to encourage vacationers to include Finland in their travel plans. Contrary to the usual custom of offering bonuses at less popular seasons, the Helsinki Welcome Package became effective on May 15th, the beginning of the warm, Midnight Sun season and remains in force until October 31st.

To obtain the coupon book, which is issued in Helsinki, the traveler requests a validated Helsinki Welcome certificate from his local travel agent, or writes for one to the Finnish National Travel Office, 505 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York 10017. The certificate will be exchanged for the bonus book at the Helsinki Tourist Office, located at Market Square in Finland's capital.

PARTY PLANS . . .

by Phyllis Jervey

"It Is Anniversary Time"

With June almost here, it is high time to begin planning bridal showers, wedding receptions, anniversaries, graduations and reunions. But especially bon voyage parties, since it looks as though most everyone is about to fly, sail, drive or go by train or bus to "elsewhere"!

We've chosen to discuss a surprise anniversary party so that the surprised hostess need but offer coffee and the host pour gifts of champagne.

Friends arrive bearing party food. With pleasant weather it could be a patio picnic, using attractive plastic-covered paper serving sets for a first anniversary. Or for buffet service, the following menu suits all ages and tastes.

Anniversary Punch with Sweetheart Roses
Broiled Chicken as Finger Fare
Double Ring Salad
Asparagus Roll-Ups
Crab-filled Shells
Cheese Bread
California Strawberry Mold
Heart Cookies
Champagne

Anniversary Punch

Two cans frozen Hawaiian punch concentrate; 4/5 qt. red dinner wine; 1 qt. bottle club soda, chilled; 4/5 qt. pink champagne, chilled; fresh lemon juice or frozen lemonade concentrate to taste.

Combine all ingredients into punch bowl, adding club soda and champagne at the last moment. Concentrates must be thawed.

Make ice ring by arranging a wreath of sweetheart roses in bottom of ring mold (size selected to fit into punch bowl). Pour in just enough ice water to anchor roses. Freeze firm. Keep adding a bit more ice water and freezing until mold is filled. Makes about 30 punch cup servings.

Double Ring Salad

One 3 oz. pkg. lime-flavored gelatin; 1½ cups boiling water; 1 cup bottled green goddess dressing; 1½ cups finely diced cooked ham; ½ cup, each, finely chopped celery and green pepper; 2 T. chopped pimiento; 1-t. grated lemon or lime rind.

In medium bowl, dissolve gelatin in water; chill until consistency of beaten egg white. Blend dressing into gelatin, then fold in ham, celery, green pepper, pimiento and rind. Pour into 1½ qt. ring mold. Chill until firm.

To make double entwined ring effect, prepare 2 single rings as above. Cut about ⅓ from one ring; place inside second ring. Line up remaining 2/3 cut ring alongside uncut ring.

Asparagus Roll-Ups

Trim crusts from thin slices of white bread. Spread with lemon-flavored mayonnaise mixed with finely cut chives. Roll each slice around an asparagus tip, sealing with mayonnaise. Cover with wax paper and chill until serving.

Crab-filled Shells

Buy smallest sized patty shells and fill with 2 cups best fresh crabmeat; 2 cups finely chopped celery; 2 hard cooked eggs, finely chopped; 1½ t. nutmeg or mace; salt and paprika to taste; 1 T. grated onion with juice; lemon juice mixed into ¾ cup mayonnaise.

Remove gristle from crabmeat but leave latter as whole as possible. Add rest of items without mashing. Fill shells.

Cheese Bread

Blend together ¼ cup dry sherry, ½ cup softened butter, 1 (5 oz.) jar process American cheese, paprika and chopped parsley. Cut narrow loaf of French bread crosswise into thin slices but not through bottom crust. Butter slices and slip loaf into paper bag and place on baking sheet. Bake in 350 F. oven until piping hot.

California Strawberry Mold

Two envs. unflavored gelatin; 1 cup sugar; salt to taste; 4 eggs, separated; 2½ cups milk; 2 pints fresh strawberries, sliced; 2 t. almond extract; 2 cups heavy cream, whipped.

Mix gelatin with sugar and salt in saucepan. Blend egg yolks with milk and stir into above. Cook and stir until thick enough to coat spoon. Cool and add strawberries and extract. Chill until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold in gelatin mixture and whipped cream. Chill until firm. Unmold into large round deep serving plate. Garnish with

Special Strawberries

Using the huge beautiful strawberries now on the market, with stems intact, brush each with egg white beaten until foamy; sprinkle lightly with granulated sugar; dry on rack.

Heart Cookies

One and a half cups soft shortening; 1 cup sugar; 2 eggs; 3¾ cups all-purpose sifted flour; 2 t. vanilla extract.

Cream shortening and sugar; add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Stir in flour and extract. Cover dough; chill well. Roll out about ¼-inch thick on lightly floured board or canvas. Cut with heart-shaped cookie cutter. Bake on ungreased baking sheets at 400 F. for about 12 minutes. When cool, brush centers lightly with slightly beaten egg white; sprinkle with pink sugar. Makes six dozen.

If you think that one de luxe hot dish is in order,

KOOKIE COOKIES — Wendy Grissim is Lela in "Me and Thee" at the Circle Theater, and Alex Gossland is Roger Carter. Now Lela is perfectly normal except for on thing. Sobr, she's wild, impetious, passionate and other adjectives. Oiled to the gills, she becomes increasingly prim and proper and mid Victorian. Roger is a hippie Harvard student given to riding on the back of a scooter on icy freeways in mid-December. They fall in love, which really doesn't have much to do with what little there is of a plot, but does make for complete insanity in the play.

'Me and Thee Is Mad, Zany Comedy By Community Group

"Me and Thee" opened last Friday evening at the Circle Theater, and this reviewer almost suffered a coronary from laughter before its conclusion.

Charles Horine has taken an idea — not a plot, mind you, but just an idea — put in some of the funniest dialogue ever heard on stage, and come up with the comedy "Me and Thee."

But don't you mind, because even if there were a plot, you'd loose it in the slick, farcial lines given the actors to speak, and in the way the six players handle this great material — with professionalism and enthusiasm.

Gertrude Chappell, doing an about face from her exciting dramatic triumph in "The Lion in Winter," proves she is a truly accomplished actress as she plays the somewhat bewildered Alice Carter, who, in the course of the play, goes from a staid, middle-class almost stodgy hausfrau to a real hipster, out to out-swing the swingingest swinger.

W. H. Scholefield, as Paul carter, second half of the stodgy parental team, handles the part with an effortless aplomb that has the audience believing he really has a trick knee that conveniently and inconveniently pops out, causing all sorts of complications. Scholefield has just completed the part of the evil judge in "Ten Little Indians."

A breath of sanity in the zany goings on comes from Martin Brown as the psychiatrist Dr. Grant Reeves, whose advise sends the Carters veering from "middle-class morality" to 20th Century amorality."

Alex Gossland as the Carter's son Roger, and Wendy Grissim as Lela are excellent at the romantic interest, and a more kookie romantic interest would be hard to imagine.

The karate-chop Meter Maid is Betty Fowlston, and if ever there was a thoroughly professional actress in the area, she is certainly deserving of the term.

When she jumps, plants her feet, assumes the karate defense pose and shouts "Ha! !" the show stops while the audience recovers its sanity.

Michael Keeler's deft, sure direction takes advantage of the skill of his cast and the excellent material the playwright provides. The combination of the three elements makes "Me and Thee" a smash.

'The Stranger' Is Masterful Film

The Carmel Museum of Art's presented of "The Stranger" at the Village Theater last week, and Maccello Mastroianni turned in a magnificent performance as the haunted title character.

The pace of "The Stranger" is one American audiences are not exactly used to, since it moves slowly, sometimes jerkily, but always with inexorable logic to the tragic conclusion.

But despite some minor faults — the film was miserably edited, not only inexcusable, but unexplainable — "The Stranger" is a gripping, honest picture that closely follows Camus's novel and permits Mastroianni the masterful acting job he turns in. If it comes back to the Peninsula, don't miss it. For adults.

Movie Review

A Man and A Woman — Anouk Aimee, Jean-Louis Trintignant and Pierro Barough combined to make this Cannes Film Festival grand prize winning film.

Candy — Ewa Aulin plays the title role in this story of the sexual adventures of a 17-year-old American girl. All star cast supports. Recommended for adults only.

The First Time — Tender love story of three boys in search of life at first hand. Jacqueline Bisset as a worldly-wise English girl, newcomer Wes Stern as the boy who falls in love with the older woman.

Pendulum — George Peppard, Jean Seaberg and Richard Kiley in a gripping crime story about a lawyer, champion of individual rights and a detective whose case he overturns.

Night of the Following Day — Four criminals abduct a young girl for ransom in a lurid tale of crime and criminals. Marlon Brando, Richard Boone, Rita Moreno star.

The Assassination Bureau — Inspired by a Jack London story, this spoof of intrique in London in the early 1900s stars Oliver Reed and Diana Rigg.

The Shoes of the Fisherman—A simple priest comes to Rome to become Pope and strives for peace amid the turmoil of the modern world. Anthony Quinn, Laurance Olivier, Oskar Werner, John Gielgud and Vittorio De Sica.

Charly — Experimental brain surgery changes a mentally retarded young man into a brilliant adult confronted with new and serious problems. Cliff Robertson, Claire Bloom.

Stage Review

Me and Thee — Funny, funny, funny. Frivolous goings on at the Circle Theater. It's so funny the management permits rolling in the aisles if you feel so inclined, and there's no doubt you will so feel. Psychiatry, hippies, non-hippies and squares all abound in this comedy. No social significance, no earth-shaking message, no prophesy, no absolutely anything but funny, funny comedy, well directed, well acted and well staged. Reservations a must at 624-2669.

Born Yesterday — Hilarious Washington high jinks with Luann Brown as the dumb blonde Billie, Bob Lotz as the avaricious junk dealer Brock, Rod Allison as the writer Paul Verrall, Ed Shinbrot as Senator Hodges, Betty Hughes as Mrs. Hodges, Mike Williams as Jim Devery, the alcoholic lawyer, Peter Hanson as the assistant hotel manager, Gresh Ivey as Brock's flunky cousin, Monica Brueni as the maid and John DeSantis as the waiter. Outstanding comedy with superb performances playing Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Studio Theater-Restaurant. 624-1661 or 2321 for reservations.

Market Comments

Dow Theory Business and Stock Market Forecasts letter dated May 16th, continues its optimism but is beginning to indicate the need of more caution. They say "Peace is very bullish but tighter and tighter credit is just the opposite. Right now, there is quite a tug-of-war going on between the two. Under the circumstances, we believe clients should be very seelctive in their buying, plan primarily for the short term and plan to review their situation at the conclusion of the current rally which probably will be some time after the 4th of July."

OLD FRIENDS — Michael von Meyer, left, Russian sculptor who has worked in San Francisco for the past 50 years, was visited by his close friend Serge Ivanhoff, noted European painter at the opening of von Meyer's exhibit at the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art along with the paintings of von Meyer's young friend Manual de Arce.

"The Musicians" by Manuel De Arces

YOUNG PAINTER — 30-year-old Spanish artist Manuel de Arce, whose paintings are on exhibit this month with the sculpture of Michael von Meyer. The two artists' works are on display at the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art in Carmel.

De Arce and von Meyer Show at MPMAA

by Louise Cook

The Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association on Lincoln between Ocean and Eighth is exhibiting the work of two artists during May — sculptor Michael von Meyer and painter Manuel De Arce.

Though widely separated in years, they find this no obstacle to their friendship and rapport with one another.

Manuel De Arce, in his early thirties, was born in Spain and his paintings reflect the horror and futility he experienced in his formative years. He has been called a social commentator of his early life. De Arce has developed a thick crusty technique to better emphasize the depth of his ideas.

The viewer will see shocking portrayals of people lined up for execution by a firing squad. "The Card Players" emerge from the canvas, grim faced and sharp eyed in shadowy purples. "The Musicians," a well grouped composition of three people done in pebbly blues and purples shows some evidence of symbolism. Mr. De Arce's full length portrait of Michael von Meyer is strong and compelling.

Michael von Meyer, now in his eighties and a native of Russia, is a refugee from an earlier revolution. He has lived and worked in San Francisco for fifty years. His portraits, executed in several mediums, are strong character studies done with insight and simplicity and reveal the inner vitality of each subject. Shown are heads of Herbert Hoover, Dostoevsky, poet Boris Volkoff and his young friend Manuel De Arce. The portrayal of Countess Francoise Lowenstein Pallavacini is exquisite. The graceful standing nude has an interesting surface texture and great flair. The screen of wood done in relief of the Cruz family is impressive.

Russian nobleman and Spanish peasant make an interesting foil for one another in this comprehensive showing.

Exhibit At Academy

The paintings of Louise Cardeiro Boyer, well-known Carmel painter, and wife of pianist Gilbert Boyer, are on exhibit at the Academy of Music at 1137 Broadway in Seaside until June 21.

In addition to numerous oils, the exhibit will feature a collection of drawings depicting musicians in various phases of their work, individually and ensemble.

She will have a reception there on May 24, from five to seven.

Local Artists Give Works To Hospital

Carmel and Pebble Beach artists who contributed works of art to the new Oakland Naval Hospital were honored May 16 at a reception at the hospital's Officer's Club.

Responding to the Navy League's quest for original paintings to relieve the "institutional look" at the hospital were Elise Beaton, Louise Boyer, Henry Pancher, Dr. J. S. Pyne, Nina Scott, Roy Stowell and Beatrice Wheelock, all of Carmel; and Pebble Beach artists Brig. Gen. Elliott E. Bard (USMC, Ret.) and Mrs. Gerald Keith.

They were among more than 400 guests greeted by the hospital's commanding officer R. Adm. Edward P. Irons and Mrs. Irons, and Mrs. DeWitt Griffing of San Jose, wife of the national director and state president of the Navy League, prime mover of the project which involved all Northern California Councils of the Navy League.

Lichten Art Show At Town House

The Carmel Foundation will show the paintings of Alfred Lichten during the month of May at the Town House, Lincoln near 8th.

Lichten, a resident of Carmel for 12 years, was born in Berlin, coming to the U. S. in 1926. He had been interested in art through high school but had no opportunity to pursue it until retirement when he studied here with Harold Lundaker, Freda Fischer, Keith Lindberg and Nancy Johnson.

He said, "I had always been handy with my fingers and had done woodcarving, just in a small way because there wasn't time. About two months before Christmas, however, I would carve things to give to friends. But now I am painting."

He prefers oils, and likes most to paint the sea. Of the paintings on display at the Town House he says, "My favorite is a seascape, the small one, because it has such freshness of color."

Drug Abuse Film On Tap Saturday

Sex education and teenage drug abuse will be the topics highlighted by two new films scheduled for public showing in Pacific Grove on Saturday, May 24, at 8 p.m. in the Pacific Grove Junior High Auditorium, 835 Forest Ave.

The program is sponsored by the MOTOREDE (Movement To Restore Decency) committee of Monterey County.

Miss Muriel Miller, Chairman of the Monterey County MOTOREDE Committee, says the program will feature a premier showing of "The Innocents Defiled," a film exploring the controversial sex education courses now being introduced into public and private schools across the country.

"The film," Miss Miller explains, "reviews some of the questionable material contained in the new sex courses and explains why many parents and educators object to having the courses used."

Also on the bill will be a second film, "The Pied Pipers," exposing many of the popular methods by which teenagers are enticed to use mariquana, L.S.D., and other drugs.

"Although the dangers of such drugs are well known," says Miss Miller, "addiction among the generation now attending schools and colleges is increasing at a terrifying rate." She claims "The Pied Pipers" was selected for local showing because it helps parents understand how their children are often encouraged to experiment with drugs.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Donna F. Perkes, 76, of Carmel, died May 12. Native of Oregon, she is survived by a sister, Mrs. Norma Work of Pebble Beach.

An ad in the Pine Cone has a 7-times-better chance to be read than an ad in a daily newspaper.

COME IN, COME IN — Mrs. Helen Lightner Dean, left, owner of the Cinderella Shop for the past 32 years, welcomes Miss Martina Tait to her little shop on Ocean Ave., with the Mouse and Pumpkin carving over the door. Mrs. Lightner has sold the shop to David Hughes, and will retire from the business world.

Historic Carmel Landmark, 'The Cinderella Shop' Sold by Owner

Mrs. Helen Lightner Dean, owner of the Cinderella Shop for the past 32 years, has announced the sale of the Ocean Avenue landmark to Mr. and Mrs. David Hughes, who assumed ownership last week.

Carmel's first fashion shop, with 50 years behind it, dates to the days of the boardwalks running through the center of town, when the chief of police rode Ocean Avenue on horseback.

It was started by Janet Prentiss, who had come from New York enticed by reports from friends of an idyllic life-by-the-sea.

First a sort of Woman's Exchange where pies, cakes and potholders changed hands, clothes were added due to natural demand. The young women of the town (wives of artists, writers and tradespeople) were adding to the population and needed maternity clothes. Miss Prentiss journeyed to San Francisco and brought a quantity back on consignment. Thus the Cinderella Shop began to grow to glamour.

The Deans came to Carmel from Sacramento in 1937. "I had had no business experience. I lost my husband not long after we came here, and the Cinderella Shop assumed a happy place in my life." First located in the Golden Bough Court, it moved in 1932 to its present situation at Ocean and Dolores.

Carmel artist Phil Nesbitt carved and painted the fairy-tale coach sign that has become a pleasure to Ocean Avenue strollers. "The noses of the mice have become blunt through the years," laughs Mrs. Dean. "My little Victorian sofa had replacements of cover after cover as they wore out." Out her door went dance dresses for the elegant old Hotel Del Monte, now the Naval Postgraduate School.

"If I had to sell my shop, and it's time I did, I couldn't have asked for better successors. David Hughes is a top merchant nationally. He has been a vice president of both Neiman - Marcus and Peck & Peck stores. For a number of years he was merchandise manager for Neiman-Marcus in European markets.

They're not strangers to the Carmel area, as he was born in Fresno and they both went to college here in California."

Beginning a quieter life, Helen Dean wants first to rest for a few months. She plans a trip to England next fall. "My mother was born in Kent, and I have ties there. I want to go to London, too, as I love English theater."

Longtimers entering the door will, for a time, have to remind themselves that she is off doing things she hasn't had time to enjoy.

SOCIAL SECURITY AND YOU

by Raymond MacDonald

Q. My husband was killed in Vietnam after we had been married only a few months. My child by a former marriage was denied Social Security benefits when I filed before because I had been married to my second husband less than a year. Does the new 1967 Amendments change this?

A. The 1967 Amendments reduced from twelve months to nine months the time a marriage or step relationship must have lasted. (Where death occurred in the Armed Forces, or was accidental, the relationship requirement may be met in some cases after three months of marriage). You should contact the local Social Security ofcie about filing again for yourself and child.

Q. What changes in the 1967 Amendments affect ministers?

A. Prior to the 1967 Amendments, a minister could elect to have his earnings covered under Social Security by filing a waiver. Unless he files this waiver within a specified time, he was not covered by Social Security. The 1967 Amendments changed this and now a minister is covered by Social Security in all cases unless he files a waiver and is granted exemption based on grounds of conscience or religious principle. This is effective for taxable years ending after December 31, 1967. A clergyman who is opposed to coverage will need to file the application for exemption and the special statement with the Internal Revenue Service by April 15, 1970, unless he enters the ministry in 1969 or later.

Q. I began receiving widow's benefits at age 60. A year later, I became disabled. I worked regular under Social Security and want to know if I can get disability benefits in addition to my widow's benefits?

A. You could not receive disability and widow's benefits added together. Since your disability benefit may be higher than the widow's benefits, you should get in touch with your Social Security to see which payment would be the highest.

(Mail your questions to Social Security, c/o The Carmel Pine Cone, Carmel, Calif. or phone Social Security office 373-3351).

Q. I wish to report a change in my mailing address. I understand I should contact my nearest Social Security office, but I have leg trouble — do I have to go to the Social Security office to make the report.

A. You may report any event you believe could affect your benefit by going to the nearest office. However, if you are unable to go in, you may either telephone or write. Be prepared to furnish the Social Security claim number shown on your checks and when writing your Social Security office, be sure to include your name, address and telephone number.

Q. A neighbor tells me that any report I need to make to Social Security should now be made to the nearest Social Security office, instead of the Payment Center. Kansas City is the Payment Center where my records are kept and I still have several reporting cards with the Kansas City address on them. Should I use up these old cards?

A. No, you should not use any reporting cards that do not have the address of your nearest Social Security office on them. If you have a report to make that could affect your benefits, contact your local office. They will process your report and give you another reporting card with their address on it. Throw away any old reportings cards you may have.

Reviews for Young Readers

By Allene Fremier

How about a song bonk, with songs for various occasions?

Little Songs for Little People is illustrated by Harlow Rockwell in just the right manner for the mood of the songs. The illustrations are done in soft pastels and with gentle humor.

It is a collection of favoriers from Humpty Dumpty's Magazine and can be useful for teachers or parents. It will be easy for the beginning piano student to pick out the simple tunes on the piano.

Some of the songs included in the holiday section are "Bright New Year," "Let's Make Valentines," "Saint Patrick's Day Jig," "Whose Birthday?," "Thanksgiving Day," and others.

In the Fun and Games section are "The Happy Burro," "Fiddle Hi Ho," "The Bullfrog," "The Wicky Wacky Wocky Bird," and others.

The last section is called the seasons and contains such songs as "April Rain," "Spring Song," "Summer Bouquet," "September Days," and others.

It is a delightful book and should be a useful one.

Jeanne Bendick has another informative book for youngsters, adding to the many which she has already written, such as The Emergency Book, The First Book Of Fishes, How Much and How Many to mention only a few.

Her latest one which we have just received is The Human Senses.

It tells about sight, hearing, smell, taste and touch in a simple and interesting way, with plenty of illustrations which are both informative and decorative.

She suggests many experiments to try which the children can easily do. One is to blindfold a friend and have him hold his nose and taste an onion and an apple and see if he would know the difference.

This is another excellent one for school use.

For a complete change of pace, and for older readers, Maia Wojciechowska has written a new book called Tuned Out.

It is fiction and contains a grim warning of the dangers of drugs.

Kevin is the boy in trouble. He comes home from college looking haunted and not well. His sixteen-year-old brother Jim is horrified. The story is told through the diary which Jim keeps as he becomes aware of the extent of Kevin's trouble.

When Kevin is finally on the mend he can see that the drugs madeh im "think your hangups are not important. So you don't do anything about them."

It is a moving story, told with great sympathy for Keven's family and with compassion for Kevin.

ALL IS FORGIVEN — Four who have sneakily held overdue books from the library take advantage of a one-week period of forgiveness by Carmel Library to get them back to Ruth Thornburg, city librarian. Really though, friends of the library are helping dramatize the entire week of June 1-7 and the amnesties granted book crooks and overdue dodgers. From left, Collins Plumma, Mrs. Ruth Thornburg, Mrs. Lolita Marshall, Miss Kate Northcutt and Mrs. Marie Gilman.

Libraries Wipe Out Back Fines, Grant Amnesty—For Just One Week—June 1-7

Fine Free Week.

Public libraries are constantly plagued by the twin problems of book stealing and by borrowed books long overdue which the borrowers seemingly refuse to return because of the large accrued fines.

The five libraries included in the Monterey Bay Area Cooperative Library System have decided to do something about this situation.

Actually, fines are not intended as punishment for keeping books away from the library too long. Fines are intended as a spur to urge the borrower to return the books on time to save money. And of course books should be returned on time so that others may borrow them.

A library is not part of a local penal system, it is a service agency which cannot serve if patrons are staying at home sitting on library books.

Librarians are inclined to rationalize the epidemic of book stealing by saying that the stealing is done by persons on the move, young people who are bumming their way around the country.

This is true part of the time. But then they find some local person has been stealing books also and this is enough to make them lose faith in human goodness and parental training.

The problem is to get the books returned rather than to find a reason for the thefts.

So, the first week in June will be Fine Free Week.

From June 1 through 7 no fines will be charged in the branches of the Monterey County Library, the Salinas Public Library, the Monterey City Library, the Pacific Grove Public Library, or the Harrison Memorial Library.

Seven happy days with no fines! ! ! ! Bring books into the libraries without embarrassment! Drop them into book-return boxes and book-drops knowing all the while that no notations will be added to the library's record.

All is forgiven! !

Opening 1969 Bach Concert Set for July 18 At Sunset

The opening concert of this year's Carmel Bach Festival will take place at the Sunset Auditorium on Friday, July 18, at 8:30 p.m.

It will feature two instrumental works by Johann Sebastian Bach and two vocal works, one by J. S. Bach and one by an earlier member of the family, Johann Christoph Bach.

The two J. S. Bach instrumental works are among the best known and best loved of all his music.

The Orchestra Suite No. 2, like all the Suites, consists of a large-scale overture followed by short orchestral movements based loosely on the dance forms of the time.

It is written for solo flute, strings and continuo, and will feature Louise di Tullio, former flutist with the Los Angeles Philharmonic and currently an active free-lancer in Southern California.

Whereas the Suites grew out of the older form of keyboard dance suites, the Brandenburg Concertos are grandiose elaborations of the concerto grosso form.

The Sixth Brandenburg is scored for strings and continuo alone, and the absence of violins gives the texture a peculiarly rich and sonorous character.

The program will also include J. S. Bach's "Kreuzstab" Cantata, No. 56. This is scored for single voice, chorus and orchestra. The soloist will be the distinguished bass Thomas Paul, who has sung extensively with the New York City Opera and other American companies, as well as in numerous concert engagements.

The curiosity on this opening concert will be Johann Christoph Bach's Cantata, "Es erhub sich ein Streit" ("There arose a battle"). J. C. Bach (1642-1703) was the only son of one of J. S. Bach's grandfather's brothers.

J. S .Bach clearly respected the work of this cousin once removed. He performed this particular cantata at Leipzig, and it was included by C. P. E. Bach in the family archives.

It is a short, festive, brilliant work, built on the Venetian model, with two separate five part choruses, strings, bassoon, trumpets, tympani and organ.

The opening program will be repeated the following Friday, July 25, except that the Cantata No. 56 will be replaced with J. S. Bach's Wedding Cantata, No. 202, another well known solo cantata, with soprano Carole Bogard.

For ticket information please write Carmel Bach Festival, Box 503, Carmel, California 93921. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope.

Rotary Rummage

The Rotary Clubs of the Monterey Peninsula will stage their annual rummage sale on Saturday, May 31, in the main exhibition hall of the fairgrounds.

This is an opportunity to get rid of those worthwhile items you may have lying about the premises — things that would really tear you up to throw away, but if you could turn a cent or two, you might just be persuaded to part with them.

The cent or two, of course, is the deductible item on your income tax.

All proceeds go to aid the various Rotary charities.

In Carmel, Norm Winslow is in charge of picking up those goodies you have by now decided to donate. Call him at 624-6992.

The sale begins at 9 a.m. and runs until all the items are sold, or 6 p.m., whichever is sooner.

Valley Pool Will Open May 30th

Carmel Unified School District will open the valley swimming pool on Memorial Day, May 30, for weekend recreational swimming from 1 to 4 p.m., according to Charles L. Dawson, director of recreation.

Commencing Saturday, June 14, the valley pool will be open daily from 1 to 4 p.m.

The high school pool is scheduled to open for recreational swimming Saturday, June 14, from 1 to 4 p.m. daily.

Single admissions at both pools is 35c for students and 65c for adults.

Season tickets will be available at both pools at $10.00 for a family, $7.50 for adults and $5.00 for students.

For further information please call the recreation office — 624-3342.

Visiting Professor Program for MIFS

For the third successive year the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies has been awarded a grant of $4,000.00 by the Luke B. Hancock Foundation in support of the Institute's program of visiting professorships.

This year the grant will provide for Professor Takeo Kaneko from Japan, and Professor Raymond Surdez from Switzerland.

Dr. Kaneko of Rikkyo University, Tokyo, will become visiting professor in the Institute's department of Japanese. Professor Surdez, who has served on the Institute's summer faculty since 1965, is well known in this community, having taught at the Defense Language Institute until 1964. He and Mrs. Surdez plan to reestablish their home in Monterey. Professor Surdex will remain on the faculty of the Institute and will serve as acting chairman of the French Department for the academic year 1969-1970.

Basketball Camp

The "Russ Critchfield Basketball Camp" will begin June 16 and run through June 23 on the Palma High School campus. Daily instruction will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Moving soon? Let us know when you're moving and where you're going, and we'll provide you with non-stop phone service. If you're moving anywhere within the Bell System, your Service Representative will see that your telephone is the last thing out of your old house—and the first thing into your new one.

I'd like to remind you that if you've changed your address, your name, or are newly arrived in town, you're ineligible to vote unless you register. To avoid the rush around election time, why not take care of it right now. For your convenience, we have employees in our Business Office at 404 Franklin Street in Monterey who are qualified to register voters. So, if you have occasion to drop by our office, for any reason, let us take care of your registration at the same time.

This time of year I know a lot of you are planning for important events; things like graduations, weddings and vacations. And your Yellow Pages can help you make those plans. Whatever product or service you're after, check your Yellow Pages first—and let your telephone help do some of the shopping.

"Boy Power" is the theme of this year's Scout-O-Rama which will be held at the Monterey Fairgrounds on Saturday, May 24th, between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Peninsula Scouts have been busy building displays that depict the programs that are a part of scouting and a part of "Boy Power."

Maybe you know some boy who would be interested in becoming a Cub Scout or a Boy Scout? This would be a fine opportunity for him to see exactly what scouting is all about. Admission is $1.00. Tickets will be available on May 24th at the entrance door.

Continue cooking until sauce begins to thicken. Serves six.

For the pilaf, cook concerted white rice as directed but use rich canned chicken broth instead of water. Add chopped canned mushrooms and pimiento with snipped parsley. Serve hot.

Christian Science Bible Lesson

"Beloved, I wish above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth."

This verse from III John is the Golden Text of the Bible Lesson-Sermon on "Soul and Body" that will be heard Sunday in all Christian Science churches.

A correlative passage from the denomination textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, states: "A demonstration of the facts of Soul in Jesus' way resolves the dark visions of material sense into harmony and immortality."

Get a dishwasher.

Throw in the towel too—because a dishwasher is also a dishdryer. Fact is, a dishwasher is a real heavyweight when it comes to taking work off your hands. New models even come with pre-rinse cycles to eliminate hand rinsing. (A dishwasher also gives you a place to store dirty dishes out of sight until you're ready to wash them automatically.) EDITORIAL

(Editor and Publisher Magazine is the trade journal of the newspaper business, and this editorial in the issue of Apr. 26 seems to underscore the problems of a burgeoning bureaucracy, where the Federal government is so vast, so complex that approximately one-quarter of its operations are duplications.)

Flying Blind

Government financing and spending reaches the ultimate absurdity when two or more agencies spend money to accomplish opposite results. Louis Cassels, senior editor of United Press International, pointed this out for newspaper publishers this week revealing that the Public Health Service is spending $8 million this year to discourage smoking while the Department of Agriculture is spending $30 million to subsidize the growing of tobacco.

The absurdity could have been further accentuated by adding the money (probably also in the millions) that has been spent by the Federal Communications Commission and others on the cigaret television commercial controversy.

When the government's right hand doesn't know what its left hand is doing it ought to keep both hands out of the advertising business until there is a firm, unified policy.

MONROE HONORED

Richard C. Monroe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Monroe of Carmel, has been named to the Sigma Pi Alpha Engineering Honor Fraternity.

Young Monroe is a 1962 graduate of Carmel High School, attended MPC and is now a student at Cal Poly, Pomona, where his scholastic achievements earned him the honor.

He was honored at a special installation dinner held last month.

The Aquarian Age

Religion in the Aquarian Age will be the topic of discussion at a free public lecture at House of Peace, on Saturday, May 24, at 8 p.m.

Well known astrologer and teacher, Mrs. Ruth Bixler of Carmel, will address the meeting sponsored by House of Peace as a public service.

House of Peace, a new gallery and gift shop, is located at the northeast corner of Dolores and 5th, upstairs. Phone 624-5550 of further information.

OBITUARY

Harry G. Lachmund, research forest pathologist, Carmel resident for 20 years, died on May 16. He did successful research on pine blister rust and wrote many scientific articles. Born in Fresno in 1893, he was a graduate of Stanford.

Lachmund was a flyer in WWI and for many years was with the U. S. Department of Agriculture bureau of plant pathology. He was also interested in human and natural history, music, hunting and fishing.

Sierra Club To Show Mineral King Film

A 40-minute film about spectacular Mineral King will be shown by the Sierra Club, Ventana Chapter, at Brey Hall, Carmel High School, on Thursday, May 29 at 8 p.m.

Mineral King is an 8-thousand foot high valley surrounded by 10-12-thousand foot peaks.

This beautiful and rugged valley, bounded on three sides by Sequoia National Park, is about to be "developed" by Walt Disney Productions into an urban type recreation area. If present ambitious plans are implemented, the Valley will become more crowded than Yosemite.

Far-sighted people are trying to stop the development. This film shows Mineral King in its present splendor and, by contrast, plans for roads, lodges, car parking, mountain - top restaurants and aerial tramways.

Two Sierra Club members from Los Angeles, Albert Hill and John Rettenmayer, will present the film, supply further information and answer questions.

This will be the last Sierra Club Conservation meeting before September. Members and non-members are cordially invited.

Le Bistro Opens

A new restaurant gallery named Le Bistro will open in Carmel next week, and will feature, of all things, a French motif.

Located on San Carlos between Ocean Ave., and 7th, Le Bistro will occupy the premises formerly known as Zany's.

The owners, Zigmont and Dianne Le Towt, are former residents of Carmel who are returning from a stay in Fresno. They are looking for local artists who would like to exhibit their paintings and other works for sale in the new cafe.

Artists interested in placing paintings in the new gallery-cafe may call 624-6545 for information.

ROTARY MEETING

Carmel Rotarians yesterday heard Wallace J. Johnson, mayor of Berkeley, discuss his city as a barometer of the United States.

Johnson spoke at the regular weekly luncheon meeting at the La Playa Hotel, and was introduced by Barney Laiolo, mayor of Carmel.

Next week's program will be provided by the Salvation Army, and all visiting and touring Rotarians are invited to attend and listen to those who truly practice service above self.

Science Credit At Sweetwater Camp

Another four week camping session on Sweetwater Creek, about 20 miles down the coast, at which high school students can earn 5 units of science credit has recently been announced, by the Pacific Grove School District, in which Carmel students can participate.

It begins on June 16, ends July 7, about two weeks before the second summer school session begins. It costs $30 per week and weekends are free. For more information call Dean Thayer at PGHS.

Mr. and Mrs. Steven Williams of Carmel became parents of Justin Hyland on May 7, at Community Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. James Costello of Carmel became parents of Patrick Cragg on Apr. 29 at Monterey Hospital.

Salvation Army 1968 Annual Report Theme 'Compassion in Action'

Most people have a mental stereotype of the Salvation Army as a group of women in bonnets and men in uniforms standing on a street corner in New York's Bowery district playing brassy religious music.

But on Friday evening, May 16, those nearly 150 people attending the annual civic dinner of the Salvation Army at the Highlands Inn got another picture of this selfless group and its activities on the Monterey Peninsula.

In the annual report of the Army this year entitled "Compassion in Action," the various activities in the community were enumerated.

The cold hard figures are not in themselves compassionate, but they do represent the services the Army performed during 1968.

That tangible part of Salvation Army activity that can be shown by statistics and figures can be compared to that part of an iceberg that shows, just a small one-third of the whole.

In the area of family assistance, a cold figure under "Individuals Helped" reads 1,160. While that many people "helped" is impressive, what is not explained by 1,160 is the human suffering that might have been relieved, the major personal problems that were solved.

There's an asterisk at the heading "Transient Assistance," and the explanation says that the local Corps Officer and the Advisory Board do not feel that they are contributing to individual or community well-being by giving handouts to "hippies." The quote is theirs. They are anxious to help these young people return home, get jobs or medical attention, but they do not as a rule furnish meals and lodging to them.

The Salvation Army also maintains a community recreation center, boys and girls clubs, employment bureaus, senior citizens clubs and some 20 other social service activities.

Hi-Twelve Hears 'Tell It Like It Isn't'

A talk on the crises in communications, confrontation and credibility caused by the practice of slanting, distorting and "managing" the news released by corporations, special interest groups, governmental agencies and the White House itself was given by Gordon Cubbison of Carmel at the luncheon meeting of Carmel High Twelve Club at the Monterey Elks Lodge on Monday.

Cubbison, a local investment account executive, with wide experience in governmental and civic affairs, is a former associate professor of public communication at Boston University.

The tendency of agencies releasing news to pander to the public's habit of interpreting news through mental sterotypes, cliches and prejudices acquired over the years, was covered.

The dangerous habit of government leaders telling us lies, the damage being done to the confidence between us and our leaders, and between our leaders and the world when these lies have been found out, was emphasized.

"We must not allow our leaders to orchestrate public information about the government of our democracy," concluded Cubbison. He spoke hopefully of the relatively new "Freedom of Information Act," but suggested that it's too early to tell how the new administration will perform in this regard.

YOU ARE MAKING A SERIOUS MISTAKE if you fail to look at our immaculate three-bedroom, two-bath Rancho Rio Vista home. In addition to a delightful outlook from every room, it has a kitchen that will capture any wife's heart. The extra large multipurpose room on the lower level is an added bonus. $65,000 and really under-priced.

WE HAVE A NEW LISTING IN CARMEL HILLS that will capture the fancy of any artist — or the fancy of the mother with too many children for the ordinary three-bedroom home. The studio in this basically two-bedroom, three-bath home can actually be converted to dormitory type living — 22' x 24'. The kitchen has a breakfast area and there is also a large dining ell. Accoustical ceilings, a minimum-maintenance yard and a double driveunder garage with workshop are the bonuses here. $45,000.

SPEAKING OF CAPTURING, we have captured a little two-bedroom Carmel charmer only one block south of Ocean Avenue. It is expandable and actually has some ocean view. $39,800.

IF YOU REALLY NEED SPACE, we have an over 3000-square-foot home with probably one of the most unusual family rooms on the Peninsula. The three bedrooms and three baths are arranged to accommodate an in-law or what have you — and the owner will carry the 1st Trust Deed for the qualified purchaser. Impossible to replace at $59,500.

OH, for the Merry Month of May! Make it a must to come a-larking up the winding Carmel Valley Road to our charming little Village, where one may see artisans at work — painting, sculpting, batiking, silk-screening, potting, as well as serving up delectable works of culinary art.

Such as Swiss Quiche Lorraine, Hot Apple Dumplings, Salubrious Sandwiches, and now, Spring Salads, a glory of garden goodness, at the Keeping Room. We offer a pristine creation of all-white-meat chicken salad with slivered almonds mingling, and a piquant pineapple cream dressing to slather all over it . . . with its own miniature loaf of hot lemon herb bread on its own little bread board.

And we have California Gourmet Salad: halves of tiny cherry tomatoes, pineapple chunks, avocado, Velveeta cheese, water chestnuts, cucumber, scallions and pecans, with caper cream dressing to set it off, and curry bread on the side. Fruit Salad in all its splendor with our own marvelous raisin orange bread. And lastly, a fresh tossed salad of sweet lettuce greens and avocado with bacon bits sprinkled through, with either Ancient Mariner or oil and lemon dressing, accompanied by hot Serendipity Bread.

SUGGESTED luncheon tour for Memorial Day Weekend: May 30, 31 and June 1. First stop, the Keeping Room for Salubrious Sandwiches or Salad Luncheon with miniature loaves of lemon herb or orange raisin bread hot out of the oven. Or hot Quiche Lorraine, or Chicken Shortcake or Baked Apple Dumplings or Frozen Mousse, with our famous hot tomato broth to start and double rich coffee from El Salvador to top it off . . . then enjoy the WEED SHOW!

Meander through the tables laden with weed arrangements by Dru and see the marvelous collection of Marian Weyger's hand-printed botanicals, and Alex Weyger's portfolio of nature studies painted in abstract form with his camera. Next view the breathtakingly beautiful Wire Etchings of Jiro Oishi, three-dimensional sculptures in fine wire such as a single daisy with a honey bee about to alight.

Go next door and see Edith Brattin's Nursery turned Gallery to show her line drawings and water colors of native weeds, with specimens, and have a cup of wild Yerba Buena punch. Alice Mehdy of the Oleander Nursery is showing her dramatic block print collection, and for those who just love the weeds in pictures or bottles but can't stand them in the garden, there is a complete display of weed control products.

Carmel Valley Village Annual WEED SHOW weed drawing or painting contest will be shown also — first, second and third prizes in 1st through 6th grades, 7th through 12th grades, and adults.
